Ga. Teachers College— Continued from Page 1. Before school opened this week, the college spent over $100,000 in improvements on the college campus, including the administration building, the library, and Anderson hall.

Dr. Henderson is concerned about the need for additional dormitory space on the campus. He told the Rotarians the in Sanford Hall, a building with 50 rooms, there are 40 boys.

"Rooms built for two boys are overloaded with three, and in three rooms there are four boys," he said.

"If we had a new building tomorrow we could move 100 boys from Sanford Hall and still need another dormitory," he said.

He stated that the college was forced to turn applications for entry into the college down for lack of dormitory space. He believes that with adequate housing facilities, Georgia Teachers College could soon be enrolling "1,000, 2,000, 1,500 students."

He recalled dreams of Dr. Pittman, who visualized 1,500 and 2,000 students at the college here.

"The time has come to see that these dreams do come true," he said.

He spoke of the high standards of the college. He pointed out that now the college is fourth in the University System. "Fourth to University of Georgia, Ga. Tech, G.S.C.W."

Concert Group Organized Here

The first annual campaign dinner of the Statesboro Concert Association will be held at the Forest Heights Country Club Tuesday evening, October 11, at 6:30.

The announcement is made by Dr. Roger Holland Jr., elected president of the association at a meeting held here on Tuesday of this week.

Following the dinner next Tuesday night, a campaign will be put on for membership in the association which will entitle members to attend a minimum of three outstanding concerts during this season to be presented at the Georgia Teachers College auditorium.

J. P. Rudolph, of the Southern Concert and Lecture Service of Atlanta, was in Statesboro this week working with directors in planning details of the campaign.

Dr. Holland states there will be no individual tickets sold at the door of the auditorium at the college as in the past.

He pointed out that the college is cooperating in the project with a substantial contribution, and urged citizens who are interested in membership in the new association to join early since only 300 memberships will be offered.

Those attending the organizational meeting were: Mr. Gilbert Cone, Mrs. Sidney Dodd, Dr. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sutherland, Paul Sauve, Jack Averitt, Jack Brucke, Dean and Mrs. Paul Carroll, Charles Kopp, Dr. Ronald Nell, Mrs. T. H. Bryan, and Miss Carolyn Lee of Brooklet.

This is National Newspaper Week—October 1-8. The newspapers of the nation have adopted the slogan, "Freedom Where the Newspaper Goes." It would mean three new dormitories, more teachers, more students.

John Bradberry, Sports Editor for The Atlanta Constitution, was guest speaker at the "kickoff" meeting of the Statesboro Quarterback Club, held at the Country Club Monday night of this week.

Jesse Outlar, sports writer for the Constitution, was with Bradberry, Mr. Outlar's story on the meeting in the Atlanta Constitution on Wednesday morning is as follows:

"End Tommy Blitch was honored as the Statesboro High School player of the week Monday night as the Statesboro Quarterback Club, one of the most enthusiastic and progressive groups in the State, kicked off for its second season at the Forest Heights Country Club.

"Blitch, a scrapping redhead, was picked by the club for his fine play in Statesboro's 59-6 victory over Baxley last Friday night.

"The club will follow the same policy each week and will present awards to the entire team at the big celebration at the end of the season.

"Seventy members were present at the opening session Monday to hear John Bradberry, Sports Editor of the Constitution, give a talk on Southeastern Conference football.

Fielding Russell, newly elected captain of the club; Everett Williams, quarterback; Jim Watson, scorer, and San Strauss, treasurer, were installed as officers.

What Happened To The Other 2,489? Back in August the Statesboro National Guard held a pay day and paid its members off in silver dollars—5,000 of them.

That was the last we heard of them until Floyd Brannen, of H. Minkovitz & Sons department store, told us Monday morning that more than 125 of them had passed through the cash registers of that store.

Kernit R. Carr, of the Sea Island Bank, reports that more than 1,300 turned up there, and Wallace Cobb, of the Bulloch County Bank, said that about the same number passed over their receiving counters.

That makes 2,525 accounted for. John Lafate Deile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Inman Dekle, has six in his "cartwheel" collection, which makes 2,531 accounted for. Wonder what happened to the other 2,489?

WE REGRET IT Because of several legal advertisements which came in on our deadline and the law makes it mandatory that they be published—it became necessary that we take out part of the social events of this week. We regret this, but assure those who called in the items to our society editor, it was not intentional. Look for them next week.

Statesboro kicks to Baxley's 28. Baxley returns it to their 40. A center bust is good for five. Vandor makes three. Baxley fails to gain on next play. They kick on fourth down, but the ball goes straight into the air and goes out of bounds on their own 40. Pass from Cassidy to Upchurch for Statesboro good for 11 yards. Ashton Cassidy passes to Nesmith. Nesmith laterals to Joe Ben Cassidy good for six yards. A center smash by Joe Ben Cassidy is good for two. Joe Ben Cassidy picks up eight. Boy Scout Drive to Raise $2,400 Now Underway

The drive to raise $2,400 for the Boy Scouts began this morning when nearly 50 citizens of Statesboro met at the Norris Hotel for breakfast.

Colonel Henry J. Ellis, chairman of the finance committee for Bulloch County, asked that the final reports made at his office on East Vine street tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock.

More than 700 prospect cards were given the fifty workers who will work individually or in pairs.

The Boy Scout movement is one of the most important in Bulloch county, as well as in the nation. Colonel Ellis urges citizens of this county to respond generously to the appeal for funds that the Boy Scouts of this community might become better young men for this community.

Save Hog Sale Tickets It would be a good idea to save all hog sale tickets that might be around the house, and on future days for a year or two. Byron Dyer, county agent, thinks.

Indications are some thought is being given to the need for marketing control measures in the near future, perhaps within the next two or three years.

Hog growers who had their marketing information in years gone by came out much better with the corn-hog contract than those who guessed at data.

A Proclamation WHEREAS, in observance of a joint resolution of Congress, and pursuant to a Proclamation of the President of the United States, the first week in October of each year since 1945 has become traditionally recognized and observed throughout America as "NATIONAL EMPLOY THE PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED WEEK"; and

WHEREAS, the people of our community are eager to join in this movement and make their full contribution to a cause which seeks to equalize the opportunities for gainful employment and thereby take full advantage of the skills and talents possessed by our fellow citizens who are the victims of physical handicaps which would otherwise impair their earning capacity; and

WHEREAS, by emphasizing to employers the reserve of unused earning power which can thus be turned toward enriching the community and adding to the material and social wealth of our neighborhood, we can contribute to the happiness and prosperity of all of our citizens; and

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Statesboro, Ga., to be affixed, this 1st day of October, 1949.

J. GLENN CONE, Mayor of City of Statesboro.

Let's Make T.C. Our No. 1 Project

STATESBORO BUSINESSMEN, the Chamber of Commerce, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and other civic organizations have been concerned for years and are now concerned about industry for Statesboro and Bulloch counties.

Industry with a payroll. That's what we want. And all the while we have had and now have what amounts to one of the largest industries in the state in a town the size of Statesboro. One with a payroll. And a big one too.

Our Georgia Teachers College. Because it is a college we shrink from the idea of classing it as "industry." We refuse to recognize a teacher's monthly salary check with a workman's weekly payroll envelope. But behind the coming and going of students to and from classes, campus activities, and the other things which characterize a college, we have the make-up of big industry.

And whether the pay comes in a check form monthly or in cash form in an envelope weekly, the total is the same in dollars and cents at the end of the year.

According to College President Zack Henderson the annual "payroll" of our college "industry" amounts to nearly one million dollars—$840,650 to be more accurate.

And that boils down to a Saturday night take-home pay of $15.160 a week.

And that's not a small weekly payroll. Now here's what we are getting at.

President Henderson told the Rotarians last week that the present enrollment at the college is 761. The largest in the history of the college.

And the regrettable fact is that the Registrar had to turn down applications of nearly 100 more who wanted to enroll.

They were turned down because there is no room to house them.

Sanford Hall, the boys' dormitory, named for the late Dr. S. V. Sanford, is now housing 271 boys. Built to accommodate 180 students, the building now houses 91 more than its capacity.

That's three boys to a room intended for two.

If there were a new dormitory on the college campus today it would be filled tomorrow with the surplus number of students in Sanford Hall.

And it's not fair to those young men to require them to live and study under such crowded conditions.

But how does this concern me? you ask.

Just this. If our college... "our industry," is to continue to grow, it must have more buildings, more funds, more teachers commanding higher salaries, that the college might turn out better trained teachers.

Freedom Goes Where Newspaper Goes

RECENTLY WE promoted "Soil Conservation Week" with a special six-page section of our newspaper.

Recently we promoted "Farm Bureau Week" in the editorial columns of our newspaper.

There are "Four-H Club Week," "Future Farmers of America Week," "Home Demonstration Club Week,"... all of which receive generous space for their promotion.

All of these concern us directly and the newspapers all over are happy to promote them.

And now comes a week of our own.

"Newspaper Week," October 1-8.

Forgive us if we take time out to do a little promotion of our own.

We want to promote the idea that "Freedom goes where the Newspaper goes."

Every week a large number of citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county receive one or both of the county's two newspapers, The Herald and The Times.

Mr. Turner, as publisher of the Times, has been publishing that newspaper for over one-half a century. He is one of the most beloved publishers and editors of the Georgia Press Association.

We have been publishing the Herald twelve years—counting the interlude we were away at war—and are still just a young upstart in Georgia Press circles.

But we, like every publisher and editor in Georgia, try honestly to give you the best newspaper of which we are capable. And we believe that Statesboro's two newspapers are as good, if not better, than any other two in the state.

We try to serve this community to the extent of our capabilities, ever mindful of our duty to its citizens.

We believe, with all our heart and soul, that the newspaper—not just the Times and the Herald—but every newspaper is the meeting place for community ideas, that the newspaper is the market place for the community, that the newspaper is the market place for the exchange of commodities and services of the community, and that the newspaper is the vehicle for the family growth and development and everything within a community's power should be done to preserve this medium of public service.

Your newspapers are dependent almost entirely upon your American spirit of neighborliness, of interest in the goings-on of the family next door and a thirst for information as to the functions of our society. Should you ever lose your interest in the welfare and well-being of your neighbors, and should you ever lose your voice for the expression of this admirable trait, Americanism itself would suffer a severe blow.

When the freedom of your Press falls, the others are most assuredly destined to fall with it.

Past presidents of the college dream of a thousand-student body... even a fifteen hundred-student body at the Georgia Teachers College, Statesboro.

Our concern must be to help realize these dreams!

For years the average citizen of Statesboro has been aware only vaguely of the college. It was just there—a college with students and teachers.

No attempt was made to analyze what it means to the community in the hard dollars and cents terms.

Citizens were urged to attend student activities given in the college gym or in the athletic stadium, or in the auditorium. Business firms advertised in the college newspaper and the yearbook and contributed to the athletic programs. But they wrote it off more as a "contribution" than as support to a business enterprise.

Now has come the time when our thinking of the college must undergo an about-face.

We now know how much it means to us in dollars and cents.

Never forgetting the intangible values represented by its culture and intellectual contributions, we must think now in terms business men and politicians understand—"dollars and cents."

We must help President Henderson make the Chancellor of our University System, the district representatives on our Board of Regents, the Board of Regents, the Legislature, and the people of Georgia more and more aware of Georgia Teachers College.

We must take to an aggressiveness that refuses to accept a "no" or a compromise.

We don't need to seek out new industry as much as we need to develop the one we now have.

We, too, see a one thousand—a fifteen hundred student teachers college... in terms of a million, or a million and a quarter dollar annual "payroll."

Think hard on this thing—talk to President Henderson and learn how you, you, and you can help.

We pledge determined and continual publicity for the college and its needs... (Remember "The Hole in the Ground" and the twelve-year campaign we carried on for the swimming pool and recreation program for the youth of Statesboro and Bulloch county.)

Let's make the college the Number One Project of this community. It's ours. Let's work at making it grow. It'll mean dollars and cents to Statesboro.

And the cultural and intellectual values will follow automatically and increasingly greater.

Read your local and daily newspapers with a new interest.

Keep in mind the vital necessity of a free press, and of free access to information.

George Mason, when he penned the Virginia Bill of Rights, which was later incorporated into the Federal Constitution, wrote that "the Freedom of the Press is one of the greatest bulwarks of Liberty, and can never be restrained but by despotic Governments."

DADDY'S GONE A-HUNTING

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

THIS WEEK we are going to devote most of our weekly column to a side-line comments on the Statesboro High School football team and band.

THE 1949 VERSION of the Blue Devils played its last game last Friday night and performed like veterans.

Director McLendon has done wonders with the material with which he had to work at the beginning of the school year. He says that in a couple of years the Statesboro band will be the envy of the state, and in a couple more it will be the best in the state. He has great plans for the Blue Devils Band.

HE HAS some surprises up the blue sleeves of his band members. We'll not give him away here. But in the next few distant future look for some real professional antics in Memorial Park stadium.

AND WE LOVE the Majorettes. Pretty girls diked out in fancy, bow-tailed silks and satins, with hair saucily flouncing as they go bounding ahead of the band in the half-time parade. They go through intricate twirling routines with their bright, flashing batons, high-stepping marching patterns.

ONE ROUTINE they have been using was omitted last Friday night and their overall performance seemed to have been the better for it. They eliminated the business of tossing their twirling batons over the goal posts. It had always seemed to slow the tempo of the show, which otherwise moves swiftly and prettily along with gusto and rhythm. We hope they have dropped it from the repertoire. But we love them all. There's Berta Sue West, Kitty Deal, Mary Jo Johnston, Farine Sturgis and Anne Evans.

And there's pretty Ginny Lee Floyd, Drum Major. All by herself, she's the leading Majorette.

And that's good.

THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER THIS WEEK—

TODAY, October 6, will be clear.

FRIDAY, Oct. 7, will be frosty.

SATURDAY, Oct. 8, will be rainy.

SUNDAY, Oct. 9, will be sunny.

MONDAY, Oct. 10, will be stormy.

TUESDAY, Oct. 11, will be clearing.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 12, will be cooler.

BUT DON'T BLAME US IF THE ALMANAC IS WRONG!

IT'S NOT FUNNY

Beth got into the habit of laughing every time she misbehaved, and I promptly got into the habit of saying, "That's not funny—it's naughty!" She'll cut a giggle off in the middle and sober up enough to ask, "It's not funny!" And I go to great lengths to assure her that it definitely is not.

So many people have a warped sense of humor—they ring fire alarms, make anonymous telephone calls, and, in general, play April Fool's Day the year 'round. They laugh at others' misfortunes and think it's positively killing if someone falls up in a bench chair.

This story came my way the other day. Two young lawyers decided to sue someone—as a joke, understand—because business was slow. They had a constable serve the warrant on the wife of another lawyer, which stated that her husband had failed to repay a loan to the Friendly Credit Company and owed the $25 plus $225 interest.

She was upset and immediately called her husband who came out to see what she was trying to tell him. He wrote the pair of pranksters and stated that he could sue them for malpractice and he also threatened to sue the J.P. on his bond.

The two apologized profusely and it's all over now, but what started as a practical joke could have snowballed into a lawsuit which would have found the funny boys defending themselves. IT'S NOT FUNNY.

In school dormitories, the old standby is the short sheet routine. The "funny" person makes someone else's bed, folding one sheet in the middle. One end is tucked under the top of the mattress and the other is left loose.

Couch James Hall has done wonders with a guy called "Jere" Jere Fletcher plays football with the Blue Devils, but he hardly ever gets his hair mussed up. For you see, Jere has a special job to perform and it's a job on which many a game will depend. His specialty is a place-kicking the football for extra points after touchdowns. And that extra point often means the difference between a win and a loss.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER A Blue Devil touchdown Jere trots out on the playing field and calmly boots the ball between the uprights. Last Friday night he booted six extra points out of nine tries and on one, the ball huddler didn't set it up for him. (Only five of his extra points counted, however, for one touchdown was declared void.)

THE ENTIRE BLUE DEVIL squad looked good last Friday night as they defeated Baxley 59 to 6. Comments on each individual would go into columns of space but because of Jere's specialty we singled him out here.

The football games here are taking on the appearance of "big time" more and more each year. It's a good show and one which is successfully competing with Tech and Georgia to keep the home-town folks at home for the weekend games.

And that's good.

seeing the navy yard with the fleet in and huge planes skimming over the waters...

SOMEONE said to the society reporter, "Be sure you get it in the paper that Ann Sack went with Harry to the football game in Atlanta—because it was the first time she had left her children in fourteen years." Ann confirms the report and adds that the children took good care of their grandmother Sack, while she and Harry were away.

BILL ADAMS JR., whose daddy sings in the choir at the Methodist Church, was overheard Sunday asking his preacher, John Lough, "Didn't you get mighty hot this morning in those clothes?"

"Those clothes" were a cutaway coat and striped trousers...

RECENTLY WHEN I visited the chicken house at the Pittman home, Now don't get me wrong. It wasn't on a dark night, nor were there any chickens in sight. I saw no one at first but nosed around the "Jack and the Beanstalk" set. As I started to leave,

Whatever the Price Class—

"Buick's the Buy"

It's part of every street scene—something you see every day.

Car owners in three different price classes—all happy about the same thing.

One of them drives a new Buick SPECIAL, which you see poking forth its new, bold-looking forehead at the left of our picture.

Another will tell you there's nothing like the SUPER's "happy medium" of size and comfort, power and easy handling, style and standing.

And if you're looking for prestige, where is your money going to buy so much as in that handsome 18-footer, the ROADMASTER, with its 150-hp performance and really royal bearing?

But all these good folks get together on this: There's no ride quite so soft and cushiony as the Buick ride, whatever the size and series. There's no power quite so satisfyingly lively as Buick's high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power.

Above all, there's no "buy" like a Buick—no car that gives you such a rich dollar's worth of smartness, handling, comfort and liveliness for every dollar you pay.

So why not look the whole line over? Your Buick dealer has these grand travel-mates in a baker's dozen of different body types and sizes. Start your shopping in his showroom—and you'll find that even on delivery he has exactly what you want.

BUICK alone has all these features
Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRUPEL COIL SPRINGING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-8 POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS (Dynaflow Model) plus HI-POWER ENGINE MOUNTINGS • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Double-Duty VENTIPORTS • DUAL BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER • Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them
